UCLA Mandarin Teacher Leadership Institute 2014-2015

We are delighted to offer another series of professional development seminars aimed at providing Mandarin teachers with the necessary tools to become master teachers of language and culture, and the skills and inspiration to serve as leaders in the Mandarin teaching world. We hope you will join us!

As a participant, you will learn fun and creative strategies to develop lessons emphasizing the exclusive use of the target language while also applying California's Common Core Standards in the teaching of language, culture, and content. The use of authentic materials and technological resources will also be emphasized.

Training is provided by faculty from our partners at the California Foreign Language Project, Occidental College. Workshops will be held on Saturdays from 9:00 to 4:00 p.m. at Occidental College, Los Angeles, on the following dates:

December 13, 2014
January 24, 2015
February 21, 2015
March 21, 2015
April 25, 2015

Participants will be selected based on a number of factors including teaching experience, background, professional references, and an online application. If you would like to be selected to participate, click here for the online application form.

The cost of the program is $695. Scholarship support is available through the UCLA Confucius Institute. Teachers needing scholarship support should email: info@confucius.ucla.edu. Those receiving scholarship support will be expected to attend all class meetings.
