

Educational Opportunities

学习机会

UCLA Mandarin Teacher Leadership Institute

“Technology as the Core of Standards-Based Mandarin Language and Culture Instruction”

Through the Mandarin Teacher Leadership Institute, participants will apply California’s Common Core Standards to support the teaching of language, culture, and content through the use of authentic materials and technological resources. With technology at the center, participants will:

- Explore authentic Chinese-language materials on the web including video, music, art, graphics, text, and data.
- Make input comprehensible using PowerPoint (including MovieMaker for trimming movies); facilitating interpersonal communication through instant messaging, video, audio and written chats, emails, Voci/Voice Thread, interactive assignments and homework;
- Support presentational communication using the technologies listed above as well as online postings, DropBox and GoogleDrive.

Saturdays (9:00 AM to 4:00 PM)

December 14, 2013, January 25, February 15, March 22, and April 12, 2014

Occidental College, 1600 Campus Rd., Los Angeles, CA 90041

Tuition is $695. Teachers needing scholarship support should email: info@confucius.ucla.edu. For more information, go to www.confucius.ucla.edu.

Register here

“Vast” (森 miāo) reflects the wealth of resources available for the study of Chinese culture and language in our region.

www.confucius.ucla.edu